Community Based Disaster Risk Management

15-Jun-08, Tabriz, Iran

Following the request of Tabriz Municipality (East Azerbaijan Province in Iran), UNOCHA Tehran Office has organized a one – day workshop on CBDRM for the senior managers as well as experts from different sections of the Province. The main sessions have focused on OCHA’s role in Disaster and Climate Change Management, Gender in Emergencies, introduction to CBDRM and Integrated Disaster Management.

The objective of this one- day (15th June) workshop was to exchange knowledge, information and experience on CBDRM principles, DM tools and services, as well as raising awareness about climate change and the importance of preparedness and knowledge in mitigating its potentially disastrous effects; to demonstrates modalities on how to integrate gender- based approaches into preparedness and contingency plans; propose topics related to each phase of DM cycle with an emphasis on the need for more coordination between all involved governmental and non- governmental organizations.
